Do YOU also want to get more out of your studies than just a degree? Do you want to be able to set yourself apart from other applicants for jobs later? Then study in the U.S!

Nowadays, it is almost standard that many young people venture abroad. Studying in America though does not seem possible for a lot of people because of the false impression that they need a full scholarship or top grades to cover the costs.

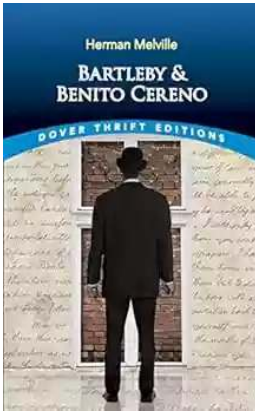

The Study Guide USA shows, based on personal experience, how exactly you as an international student (regardless of which country you are from) can study in the States as well. You will have the best time of your life, meet great people from all over the world, learn to master the English language perfectly and experience the breathtaking landscape and culture of the United States.

You will learn what exactly is required to be able to start studying in the U.S. You will also find out about the application process and what you must do, what differences there are between the institutions, what scholarships there are and how you can qualify for them even without top grades. There are numerous ways to receive scholarships, so that you can save some or most of the costs and fulfill your dream!

Henry Hoffmann himself completed both his bachelor's and master's degree (MBA) in the States. Based on his own experiences he summarizes how you too can make your dream of studying in America come true. He has also financed most of his time in the U.S. through academic and international scholarships and shows you the tricks to get as many of them as possible.

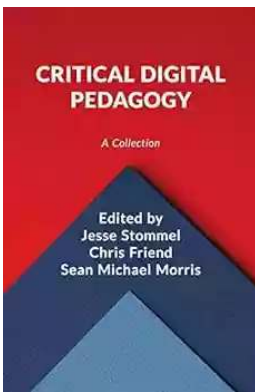

During his time in the United States, Henry was at two different universities in two different States and even worked for a university. This means that he knows exactly what you must look for when it comes to the application, the scholarships, the classes, and much much more!
