

Projects For The Home Inspired By The Life And Times Of Laura Ingalls Wilder

Are you a fan of the classic book series "Little House on the Prairie" and the remarkable life of its author Laura Ingalls Wilder? If so, you may be interested in incorporating elements of her inspiring life and bygone era into your own home. From rustic farmhouse decor to DIY crafts, there are endless ways to pay homage to Laura Ingalls Wilder's legacy. In this article, we will explore some exciting projects for the home that will transport you back to the beloved time period.

1. Vintage Window Frame Message Board

Create a unique and practical message board by repurposing an old window frame. The aged wood and vintage charm will add a touch of nostalgia to your home. Simply clean the window frame, remove any old glass, and replace it with a corkboard or magnetic board. Hang it on your kitchen wall or in your home office, and use it to display important notes, recipes, or inspiring quotes.

2. Homemade Beeswax Candles

Experience the warm glow and soothing fragrance of homemade beeswax candles, just like Laura Ingalls Wilder would have used. Beeswax candles are known for their natural, honey-like scent and long burn time. You can easily make your own by melting beeswax pellets and pouring them into candle molds. Customize your candles with essential oils or dried flowers for an extra special touch.

3. Quilted Patchwork Throw

Embrace the cozy and traditional feel of Laura Ingalls Wilder's time by making a quilted patchwork throw. Choose an assortment of fabric scraps in rustic colors and patterns, and sew them together to create a beautiful patchwork design. Fill the quilt with batting and back it with a complementary fabric. Hand-stitch the layers together, and you'll have a unique and cherished heirloom piece for your home.

4. Mason Jar Herb Garden

Bring a touch of the prairie indoors by creating a mason jar herb garden. Not only will this project add a rustic and stylish element to your kitchen, but it will also provide fresh herbs for cooking. Simply fill mason jars with potting soil, plant your favorite herbs, and place them on a windowsill where they can receive ample sunlight. Not only are herb gardens practical, but they also add a delightful fragrance to your home.

5. Vintage Book Page Wall Art

Channel your inner Laura Ingalls Wilder by creating unique wall art using vintage book pages. Look for old, tattered books at thrift stores or garage sales. Select pages with beautiful illustrations or meaningful passages, and frame them in simple wooden frames. Arrange the frames on a gallery wall or display them individually throughout your home. This project adds character and literary charm to any room.

6. Crocheted Doily Dreamcatcher

Combine the intricate art of crochet with the Native American tradition of dreamcatchers to create a stunning and meaningful piece for your home. Crochet a delicate doily using fine yarn, and attach it to a small hoop or embroidery hoop. Embellish your dreamcatcher with feathers, beads, and ribbons. Hang it above your bed or in a window, and let it catch your dreams while adding a touch of nostalgia to your bedroom.

7. Potted Succulent Garden

Add a touch of greenery to your home with a potted succulent garden. Succulents are low-maintenance plants that thrive in various environments. Use vintage tin cans or mason jars as planters to achieve the rustic and historical look. Arrange an assortment of succulents in different shapes, sizes, and colors, and place them on a windowsill or coffee table. Not only are succulents visually pleasing, but they also purify the air in your home.

8. Farmhouse-Inspired Kitchen Shelves

Create additional storage space in your kitchen while embracing the farmhouse aesthetic by adding open shelves. Use reclaimed wood or distressed boards to build sturdy shelves. Install them on a blank wall or above your counter space, and display your vintage kitchenware, spice jars, and cookbooks. This project not only enhances the functionality of your kitchen but also adds charm and character.

9. DIY Lace Window Treatment

Add a touch of femininity and elegance to your windows by creating a DIY lace curtain. Select a delicate lace fabric that complements your interior decor.

Measure and cut the lace to fit your window dimensions, and sew a simple rod pocket at the top to slide a curtain rod through. Hang your lace curtain and let the soft, filtered light create a cozy atmosphere in your home.

10. Hand-Stamped Linen Napkins

Personalize your table settings with hand-stamped linen napkins inspired by the pioneer spirit. Purchase plain linen napkins and fabric stamping ink in various colors. Choose a stamp design that evokes the nostalgia of Laura Ingalls Wilder's time, such as a wheat stalk or a vintage wagon. Dip your stamp into the ink and press it onto the napkin. Let it dry, and then set the ink with an iron. These unique napkins will impress your dinner guests and add a touch of rustic elegance to your meals.

By incorporating these projects into your home, you will create a space filled with charm, nostalgia, and a nod to the remarkable life and times of Laura Ingalls Wilder. Remember to have fun with your projects, embrace your creativity, and enjoy the process of bringing a piece of history into your own home.
