This is a true account of a party going hunting on the great plains in Sept. & Oct. 1871. Led by General Sheridan's and organised by the famous Buffalo Bill. A large party gathered on the evening of the 16th of September of those intending to participate in a buffalo hunt. They met at the Hudson River Railroad Depot in New York City, where they were supplied with a train of sixteen waggons to carry their baggage and guns. Upon getting to the plains the and finding the Buffalo their campaign duly began—and so began the shooting, “or rather should I say slaughter!”
