

Unlocking the Power of Words: Words Their Way for Parents, Tutors, and School Volunteers

Words are the building blocks of language. They hold immense power and contribute to effective communication, expression of ideas, and understanding of the world around us. As parents, tutors, and school volunteers, it is crucial to empower learners with strong vocabulary and spelling skills, enabling them to thrive academically and beyond.

One effective tool that can aid in this endeavor is Words Their Way. Developed by renowned literacy experts Donald R. Bear, Marcia Invernizzi, Shane Templeton, and Francine Johnston, Words Their Way is a research-based approach to word study and phonics instruction. It provides a hands-on, interactive way for learners to explore the intricate patterns and relationships of words.

Why Words Their Way?

Words Their Way stands out as a comprehensive program that caters to the individual needs of learners. It recognizes that not all students learn in the same way and at the same pace. This approach allows educators, parents, tutors, and school volunteers to tailor instruction to the specific needs of each learner, ensuring efficient and engaging learning experiences.

By using a variety of learning activities, including sorting, word hunts, word games, and word building exercises, Words Their Way fosters an active learning environment that promotes critical thinking and problem-solving. Students become active participants in their own learning journeys, gaining a deep understanding of word patterns, phonics rules, and vocabulary through hands-on practice.
